

Tableau Of Duality

Introduction

The prices of the art works on the following pages are covering all the extra taxes for the work itself.

Some of the works are already framed, if there is no given amount visible and the value is represented by a stripe (-), means there is no presence of a frame for that specific work.

It is possible to buy an artwork with or without frame, please keep in mind the price of the frame will go on top of the costs for the artwork. (Tax included)

Shipping costs, if applicable, will be added on top of the price and paid by the customer. This also includes the packaging and insurance.

The images of the Art works in this catalogue might have a slight different representation due to editing. For that reason it is always possible to visit me in my studio to have a look at the real art works. Nevertheless, you can always request more pictures of the desired work to get a better idea how the work appears. Please refer to the page number and title of the work of interest

Availability will be indicated with colors, a green dot (●) means it is available and a red dot (●) it is sold.

Tableau of Duality

The Tableau of Duality is a project which exist out of drawings, paintings and sculptures which present themselves as solitary works of art at first. They are not merely individual, but they function as extractions of the idea as a whole. This means that the majority of the works have to be viewed in an inseparable way and correspond with each other. The idea is that all of those artworks are made in service for a composed work of art in which all of the components would meet together on one large canvas. This work has yet to be realized, but I am moving towards it by exploring their representation of their individual and simultaneously collective concerns. The subjects are constantly evolving into more refined and purified portrayals of the abstract narrative that exist inside of them.
